Threshing is Now Progressing Nicely

Weather Has Been Ideal During The Past Week

Weather during the past week has been ideal for threshing operations. All the outfits in the district are now reaping full tilt, and the yield is proving most satisfactory. Wheat is going from 40 to 50 bushels to the acre and at the present it looks as though the average for the whole district will be around 40 bushels. The wet weather after cutting does not appear to have done any serious damage. It has delayed threshing several weeks. In Wattle, north of Bowell, had the threshers three weeks before they got finished owing to delays from rain. It took 400 bushels of wheat was a good example and averaged over 40 bushels to the acre. Besides wheat oats and rye. Mr. Wattle had a splendid crop of millet and sweet clover. Reports from all quarters of the district are most encouraging both regarding forer crops and grain. In present weather conditions continue, threshing will be pretty well completed in the next two or three weeks.

Wheat Pool Makes The Final Payment

For 1926 Crop Amounts To Over 19 Million Dollars

A final payment of over nineteen million dollars on the 1926 crop of wheat was made yesterday morning by A. J. McPhail, president of the Canadian Wheat Pool. "Of the total amount the Saskatchewan Pool receives $12,929,207, the Alberta Pool $4,138,807, and the Manitoba Pool $2,085,576," stated Mr. McPhail.

"The total payments made by the Central Selling Agency to the three provincial Pools for the 1926 crop, after deducting all marketing costs incurred by the Central Selling Agency, such as storage, interest charges and administrative expenses from the proceeds of the 1926 crop. "As in previous years the proceeds between grain have been adjusted in the final payment which reflect the actual price secured for the various grades.

The final payments make the total price on the principal grades as follows: No. 1 ($1.42; No. 2 ($1.40; No. 3 ($1.31; No. 4 ($1.21; No. 5 ($1.09; No. 6 ($0.97).

Mr. McPhail stated that the carrying charges and operating expenses of the provincial pools are deducted from the final payment. In addition the provincial pools make deductions for the commercial and elevator reserves, which are credited to the individual members. Members receive interest on the money loan to them by the Pool as an elevator reserve, which is used to provide elevator facilities.

The administrative expenses of the Central selling agency for the crop year of 1926-27, according to Mr. McPhail, were covered by a deduction of less than a fifth of a cent per bushel. The distribution of over nineteen million dollars between the grain "paid" by the Pools since the Alberta Pool started in 1922 to over one hundred and seventy-four million dollars.

WILL ATTEMPT TO KEEP ROAD OPEN IN WINTER

An attempt will be made this winter to demonstrate that even a road over a mile long can be kept open successfully all year round in Alberta. The Public Road, a business man's organization of Calgary, has undertaken to keep the highway between Calgary and High River clear of snow during the winter months to stimulate business in the city and encourage tourist traffic from country points along this line.

ADVOCATES SUBSIDY ON ALBERTA COAL

Speaking at a banquet tendered to him by the Province of Alberta and the Edmonton Board of Trade, Premier Ferguson of Ontario, said strongly in favor of a subsidy from the public treasury of Canada which would enable Alberta coal to be shipped to the Ontario market. Premier Ferguson also favored an equal railway rate on grain, feed, fuel and other products to be shipped to the country's resources.

Thanksgiving Day Monday, Nov. 7th

Preliminary Setting Date Issued By Dominion Parliament

The following proclamation appears in the last issue of the Alberta Gazette: "Whereas it hath pleased Almighty God in His great goodness to vouchsafe this year to our Dominion of Canada, a bountiful harvest and other blessings—

"We, therefore, considering that thanksgivings enjoyed by our people throughout the Dominion do call for a solemn and public acknowledgment have thought fit by the advice of our Privy Council for Canada to appoint, and We do appoint, Monday, the seventh day of November, 1927, (Armistice Day), as the day of General Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest and other blessings with which Canada has been favored in this year; and We enjoin all Our loving subjects throughout Canada to observe the said day as a day of thanksgiving.

Apptt Board For Tilley East Area

This Is In Connection With Respecting Boundary Area

The Alberta Gazette announces the appointment of E. J. Deacon and J. McPhail by the provincial government, to act on a commission for the administration of Tilley East Area. These two men with two appointed by the Dominion government will form the Board for this purpose of considering the Act respecting the boundary. Mr. Deacon will be chairman of this Board.

Twentieth the Board is now in a position to deal with all matters pertaining to this district so far as the re-arrangement plan, is concerned.

Wm. Batoford, of Salford, died in the Medicine Hat hospital last Saturday. The funeral took place on Monday. Deceased was 6 years of age.

May Start Classes For New Canadians

To Assist Them In Learning Language and Laws

During the past few months a number of Danes and Finlanders have come to Redcliff and intend making their homes here. These newcomers are cordially welcomed and help by not knowing our language. Because of this a movement has been started by the city of Redcliff to help them in learning our language and laws. The movement, we understand is meeting with encouraging success so far, not only from those in a position to help but from the newcomers themselves. While planning the preparation before the latter it was found that about 30 of them are now in town, and all are exceedingly anxious to take advantage of such an opportunity.

The principal of the school and other in view, courses of teaching have been interviewed and all have signified their willingness to help such classes in every possible way. Individual members of the school board have also been seen with regards to the use of the school for these classes and have also offered to assist.

It now looks as though there is nothing to prevent the classes being formed and proving very helpful. We are in hopes that if there are others in town apart from the nationalities mentioned above, they could also be taken care of in these classes. Further particulars will be given as soon as preliminary arrangements are completed.

The movement is an excellent one and should receive the co-operation of all who can be of service.

DOMINION TO REDEEM ALL MATURITY BONDS

In an announcement issued from the finance department it is stated that the ministry of finance will redeem in cash $25,000,000 of bonds which mature on November 1, as well as $8,000,000,000 treasury notes, bearing four per cent, which will be redeemed on November 1. The loan which falls due on the first of next month is the 5 per cent renewal loan issued in 1922 in exchange for 1917 Victory bonds.

Illustrated Lecture Draws Good Crowd

Mediterranean, Seagrey Shows The Canals at Gordon Memorial

An illustrative travelogue entitled "Mediterranean Shores," with a little play, was also illustrated, drew a large audience to Gordon Memorial church on Wednesday. Perhaps no list of the earth's surface has more of romantic and interesting history than the shores surrounding the Mediterranean sea. The pictures beautifully colored together with their story of places, people and conditions told a most interesting tale to a number of children, filled up an evening with interest and information.

The morning session was expected to be the first of a number of such evenings, spent in travel, history and story during the autumn and winter months.

Conference Against Sunday Excursions

Anglican Pass Resolution Against It At Annual Meeting

The Review has been handed for publication the following resolution passed by the Anglican Residential conference at its annual meeting in Regina, Sask., on October 17th, 1927: "Resolved:—

"That this Conference, having in view certain recent examples of organizations, planning to encourage the whole of Sunday, records its earnest protest against any such extension of the liberty of Sunday recreation as would hinder Christian people from exercising their privilege and duty of regular worship on the Lord's Day."

Forwarded by: J. Laurie Cooper, Secretary of Conference

FARMERS WANT MAN ON RLY. COMMISSION

Representation of organized agricultural interests on the Board of Railway Commissioners and also on the Board of Interstate, C.N.R. is sought in resolutions carried by the whole of Sunday, records its earnest protest against any such extension of the liberty of Sunday recreation as would hinder Christian people from exercising their privilege and duty of regular worship on the Lord's Day."

Farmers Can Now Choose Terminals

Provided They Do Not Lift The Bill of Lading

All farmers who have grain to ship during the present season will know that their rights are under the terms of the so-called "Campbell" amendment to the Canada Grain Act which became law this year. In order that shippers of grain may be in no doubt as to the nature of these rights, we publish below a concise interpretation of the amendment.

We are in a position to state that the following interpretation has been generally concurred in by the Board of Grain Commissioners:

Any farmer who has a carload of grain in store can order the elevator agent to ship it to any terminal elevators the farmer desires, consigned to any firm the farmer wishes, and the charges accrued need not be paid until the car arrives at the terminal and the government certificate of weight and grade is returned, provided the farmer does not lift the bill of lading. Naturally, if he does not lift the bill of lading, the firm to whom the grain is shipped will pay the charges and make no claim on the farmer either direct or through the elevator company. If the bill of lading is lifted by the farmer he must pay the handling and storage charges accrued against his grain.

HARD TO GET WORK BECAUSE OF AGE

Apparently there is a movement among the employers in Seattle to discourage the engaging of men over 40 years of age. The movement evidently is causing some concern among workmen over that age. In the Seattle Star of a few days ago, appeared a column picture of E. O. Wilke, a former resident of Redcliff. It is accompanied by an interview in which Mr. Wilke outlines the trouble he is experiencing in getting employment because of the prejudice against his age. It appears that employment agencies will not list men over 40 and that employers also ask for ages when engaging men. Although Otto is now 44 he feels he can do as much work as his head or hands as those of the younger. Naturally he is much concerned over the age limit which is now being brought prominently to the front.

Children's Day at St. Ambrose Church

Was Well Attended—Service Holy And Devotional

The special Children's Day service at St. Ambrose last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock was well attended by the children and adults. The account of the shortness of time for preparation last year's program was practically repeated this year. The children and adults. The singing was good and the whole service was hearty and devotional. The Vicar preached from the text, Luke 11:20, "I will bind the strong man." Giving instances of a child's prominent capacity of faith, hope and charity and showing the importance of these precious faculties being developed aright, which was the intention of religious education.

At the morning service, preaching from Psalm 119:110, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom," the vicar preached a system of religious education as part of the everyday curriculum of instruction. He showed that our present system of religious education is but only half the children of the Dominion; that the Church could effectively reach the other half, limited as her teaching was to less than one hour a week, and that necessarily given by teachers who, however willing, were not specially trained and equipped; that the so-called facilities for church training in the public schools, teaching in the Council (or government) schools of first religion proved that the religious divisions of Christian people were no real bar to the fulfilling by a professedly Christian state of its function of giving a complete elementary instruction for the whole life of the child, of which religion should be the beginning and end in the end. That done, the parent could do his part and the Church his.

Govt. Advises Against Using Miracle Wheat

It Is Now Being Extensively Advertised in Magazines

There has appeared recently in a number of leading agricultural magazines an article entitled "King T.V. Wheat Grown in the West." The article refers to certain claims made by a soldier settler living near Edmonton, Alta., and gives the impression that the wheat in question was discovered in 1922 in the town of King T.V. wheat. As a matter of fact the reports show that this wheat was discovered as far back as 1840, and the article refers to numerous other places as 85 such.

A bulletin from the central experiment station of the Department of Agriculture experimenting with this wheat it has been tried in the States but it has not been grown as a commercial crop. This bulletin says: "The fact that this wheat has never been established in spite of the remarkable advertising it has received is a good indication of its sterility."

O.S.A. Opening is Postponed to Nov. 15

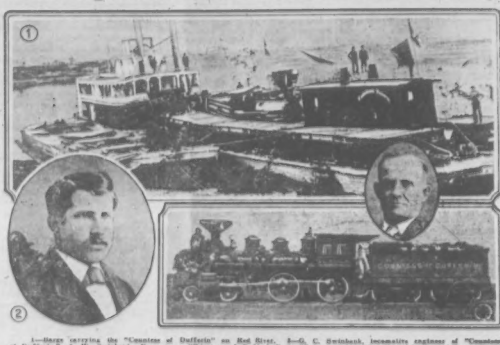

To Allow For Completion And Equipment Of New Building

The date of opening for the first year of the new agricultural school at the O.S.A. School of Agriculture has been changed from October 26th to November 15th. This change has been made so that the new buildings may be completed and the equipment installed before the classes begin. The third year class will begin school in the old building on the 19th of October. To overcome the loss of time resulting from the late opening, the holiday at Christmas will be extended somewhat, and the spring term will be extended a few days.

The new buildings from two hundred and sixty students at the present time. This is one hundred more than at the same date in previous years. It is not likely that the attendance at the School this winter will fall to capacity the additional accommodation provided by the new buildings.

Turning Point in Canadian West's History

Large carrying the "Continental of Defiance" on Red River, A.G. C. Smith, locomotive engineer of "Continental of Defiance."

The "Continental" did not arrive that day, but the next, for the difficulties of navigation with a tow of six barges were too great for speedy progress. This engine bears the name of the wife of the then Governor-General, Lady Dufferin, who formally christened it at Palmers Landing, and today she stands in a shiny coat of black paint, decorated with six flower boxes in the C.P.R. garden at Winnipeg. And yet it was only the merest accident that preserved the "Continental of Defiance" from being permanently relegated to the scrap heap. When her usefulness was over she was sold to the Columbia River Company, and in 1909 she was found in this company's scrap heap by Richard Waugh, a mayor of Winnipeg. The old engine was hauled over to the city of Winnipeg by Sir William Mackenzie, locally overhauled in the C.P.R. shops and, in the spring of 1910, placed in its present location in Whyte Park.

There are fully as many as fifty men in Winnipeg maintaining the engine of the "Continental," and among them is Dr. Charles N. Bell, one of the founders of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, who handled the original for the customs department.

The iron "Continental" was built by the Baldwin Locomotive Company in 1872 and purchased by the Canadian Pacific Railway for $10,000. She was later sold to the Golden Valley Company for $10,000, which is modern engine costs in the neighborhood of $70,000.

THE SUCKER LIST

A NORTHERN Ontario news paper is authority for the statement that promoters of stock selling, cuckers have what they call a "sucker list." These promoters have a nack of finding out the men and women in every district who have a little loose change. After getting this information the so-called suckers' list is compiled and is made up with the names of these men and women. Following the compiling of the list every man and woman whose name appears on it, is flooded through the mails with all kinds of literature boasting some wild cat propositions which promise to make millions over night for prompt investors. Then in due course a rapid fire salesman calls around with the usual yarn about getting your name as a shrewd business man who was on the look out for sure things in the way of investment and so on.

In the language of the street we might add: "All right, it's truth!" There is probably no channel through which more money is squandered annually than in this way. It is surprising that such should be the case in a country where there are so many opportunities for gilt edged investments in dominion, provincial, municipal and school bonds, to say nothing of scores of other proven enter prizes.

"Are you receiving a flood of literature—from the Itzmo Gold Mining Co., the Blue Sky Copper Corporation, the Lettabank Oil and Gas Co.—or a score of others?" asks the North Bay Nugget. If so, watch your step, it is very probable you are on a sucker list.

IS IT A DELUSION?

WE have always been led to believe that there was an understanding between the government and our railroads whereby railroad stock could be shipped to farmers on the prairies for half rate on the railroads. If the case which was brought to the attention of the Review this week is any criterion then we have been laboring under a delusion.

In this case it is quite true the railroad gave a half rate, but it failed the stock at twice its actual weight, which means that the owner really had to pay the full rate for getting his stock here.

Since the railroads and the government are getting credit for offering inducement to farmers to improve their herds, and since farmers are purchasing stock on that understanding, there should be no fooling about it.

This is a matter which should be brought to the attention of the government by some organization interested, as there is no doubt it is the intention of the government to assist farmers along this line.

From this distance it looks as though the coal miners in the Drumheller district chose a very poor time to go on a strike. With cold weather coming on and other mines in the province in operation, it will only be natural that the Drumheller mines will lose many of their customers and business once lost is difficult to regain. The result will likely be that by the time the strike is settled the mines concerned will have no orders to fill and the men will be out of employment.

The editorial in last week's Review about the Bowell school being closed has evidently started the scheming. The school is to be opened next Monday.

The Blairmore Enterprise says: "A California bathing beauty met a bear and the bear died." If California pictures of its bathing beauties are correct it was a case of a bare meeting bear, and the bear has our sympathy.

About the only fault that the opposition press can find with R. B. Bennett, the new leader of the Conservative party, is that he is a bachelor. Well that may have its drawbacks but it also has its advantages. For instances he will not have to think up excuses when he doesn't get home immediately after a political meeting.

In checking up burglaries which have been committed throughout the province lately, police have found that in most cases they have been invariably preceded by visits of some so-called salesman, solicitor or pedlar, who have presumably been sying out the grounds for action. As a means of helping the police keep tabs on such people the public are being asked to notify the nearest police of any such vendor's visit to their homes.

Now that the weather is settled and threshing operations are well under way, the next pest the farmers will likely be is against will be the get rich quick stock promoters who will be going through the land trying to get their fingers on the farmers' hand earned cash. If farmers have any spare cash to invest this year they would do well advised to consult their banker or broker before jumping at any of these get-rich-quick propositions. Millions of dollars are squandered annually in this way.

Here and There

The late John Oliver, who came from England and commenced his Canadian career as a farm worker but later rose to be premier of British Columbia, left an estate valued at $75,000.

The idea that the fleet will not spend money was dispelled this month so far as travel is concerned by the purchase of a new motor car for the same a hundred miles or more by train or motor to attend the Highland Gathering at Banff, Alberta, last September.

A shipment of antelope from Canada to the United States is shortly to be made. Charles Blaser, rancher, at Lake Newell, who has for years interested himself in the preservation of these animals, has contracted to deliver twenty-two head to a Texas buyer.

It has been announced that the representatives of the Cuban potato buyers have agreed to take nine hundred thousand bushels of New Brunswick potatoes this season. Negotiations are at present under way with the Cuban buyers for the sale of the Nova Scotia potato crop.

Increasing interest has been shown in the organization of boys and girls swim clubs throughout the province of Alberta and other clubs have been formed, among other places at Pincher Creek, Medicine Hat and Raymond. To the winning team in Alberta the Canadian Pacific Railway awards a trip to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto.

The 4,000 sportsmen who made reports to the Saskatchewan provincial gamekeepers department last year secured a total bag of 1,000 ducks, 25,000 prairie chickens, 6,000 ruffed grouse, and 2,500 geese. In order to obtain such a bag of the approximate bag of all hunters it is to be assumed that 12,000 who did not make returns secured the same average bag.

An untailing indication of farm prosperity is the increasing sale of agricultural implements reported by nearly all dealers in the west this year. The demand for haying machinery has been especially heavy, while the sale of thrashers, tractors, combines and tractors have been exceptionally large. Some firms reporting from the $100,000 per year increase in the sale of these implements.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway train bearing 125 delegates to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce convention arrived at Calgary, B. C. recently, the delegates were met by a group of B. C. Gundy requested that a brief stop be made during which the delegates paid tribute on the spot where the last spike of the Canadian Pacific transcontinental line was driven linking for the first time the East to the West. Gundy spoke briefly of the courage and vision of the builders of the railroad.

Alberta's potential oil wealth is greater than all the known oil deposits in the rest of the British Empire put together, according to Sir Thomas Holland, chairman of the Empire Mining and Metallurgical Council, recently at Calgary. If the present endeavor to change coal into a fluid fuel, capable of displacing petroleum and all its products, are successful, Canada will take the place of the United States as the world's provider of liquid fuel, he further stated.

"A land of good wages and unlimited possibilities," is the manner in which Premier Stanley Baldwin characterized Canada in his first speech in the House of Commons after his return from the Dominion. Ninety-five per cent of the men of whom we hear too much who go out to the Dominion and never come back are failures to themselves. I have no doubt that a man can get on in the Dominion if he has not been brought up in the Dominion, but a little training will go a long way."

NOVA SCOTIA MAY ABOLISH LEG. COUNCIL

The Nova Scotia government has won its appeal in the matter of the proposed abolition of the Legislative Council or Upper Chamber of the province of Nova Scotia, the judicial committee of Privy Council giving judgment in favor of the abolition of the Rhodes government.

The appeal by the Provincial government to the highest tribunal in the British Empire was taken after disagreement by the judges of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court to whom the Government had submitted the question of its power to amend the Legislative Council.

Conserving Heat In Homes

Insulation Would Save Canada Fuel Bill of $20,000,000

Home insulation is a subject of great importance in countries with extreme climates. Canada is, therefore, vitally concerned. It is almost every other important factor in home construction has received more consideration.

In the early days, when fuel and structural materials were cheap when thick timber and stone walls were commonly used in building, and when people were heavy woolen winter clothing, the question of insulation was relatively unimportant. Now, however, with rapidly increasing costs of both fuel and house construction and the subsequent advent of this walls, the situation has entirely changed. People cannot afford any longer to waste heat. Not only must new houses be insulated to ensure economy and efficiency in the use of fuel—but the insulation of existing houses is equally important as a means of reducing the cost of living and promoting more healthful and comfortable living conditions.

The domestic coal stores and furnaces in present use deliver to the house heater, at best, only 14 per cent of the heating value of the fuel. The economical use of this available heat is entirely a matter of reducing the heat leakage through walls and roof to a minimum. This fact has been long appreciated by heating engineers and stone wall, concrete and builders, but the general public which is most concerned, is just beginning to realize the importance of insulation in preventing the escape of indoor heat in the winter and the entry of outdoor heat in the summer.

The cost of insulating a new house will vary considerably according to the variety and thickness of insulation used. It is commonly assumed to range from 2 to 5 per cent of the total cost of the building. An insulated house will require a smaller heating plant than a non-insulated house of the same size, hence a considerable saving may be made in the initial cost of furnace, radiators, and piping. Furthermore, the annual saving in coal and the greater comfort and more healthful conditions, obtained by further saving is also in many cases effected by using insulators having structural strength in place of lumber for plaster base. The net cost of insulating a new house may, therefore, be said to range from 1 to 4 or 7 per cent of the total cost.

It is, in fact, a general way, almost impossible to state the cost of entirely insulating an old house because of the wide variation in the methods of treatment. The cost of insulating the attic or roof of a house of average size, which should eliminate more than half the heat loss, will probably range from $15 to $150, depending on the type and thickness of insulator used. The cost of insulating the walls, of a house of average size, may vary from $100 to $400 depending on the method used.

According to a report recently published by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, following an investigation of this subject in co-operation with the Dominion Fuel Board, if all the residential buildings in Canada were properly insulated, against loss of heat an annual saving of at least $20,000,000 would result. A survey covering a large number of individual cases indicates that for an average insulated house of six to eight rooms an annual saving of at least 3 tons of coal or its equivalent in other fuels may be expected.

Honoring Lindbergh
Charles A. Lindbergh has another name. He is one Long Lipe, a little baby born in Chicago, Chicago. His Chicago parents, inspired by Col. Lindbergh's feat, wanted to name their baby boy after him, but they wanted a name with a "C" in it. After much thought the name was chosen.

A library of motion picture films will be established at Harvard University. The standard of choice will be "films which justify themselves as worthy of preservation as works of art."

"Well, your standard's a little low on the same line as men? A girl of 21 has more sense than a man of that age."

"He—He ought to have, seeing he's nearly about 20!"

"Philip's quite those glowing days."

Morris: "So do I. You can't claim them when you're old."

Popular names are often so popular that they become unpopular.

A Royal Warrant

Is Given To Tradesmen Supplying Royal Household For Many Years

The British tradesman is proud when able to display when advertising his wares, the caption, "Furnished by Royalty."

A Royal Warrant is the form of permission, granted by the King or other members of the Royal Family who issue warrants, writes W. F. Roberts in the Federal Magazine. A tradesman is one who is in connection with his business. The Royal Warrant holder can display the Royal Arms on his shopwindow and on his letter-press and bills, but the words "By Appointment" must appear in close proximity to the Royal Arms. To obtain a Royal Warrant a tradesman must have supplied goods to the Royal household for some years, and naturally his goods must be of the highest quality, and he himself must be a man of the strictest business integrity.

Most of the Royal Warrant holders carry on business in London, but there are holders of Royal Warrants from London, Liverpool, all over the world, and they supply every conceivable type of commodity to English households. There is a tradesman who specializes in buttons; another in petticoats; another in the making of proper hats; another in supplying for nearly all Royal entertainments.

The first Royal Warrant issued, as far as is known, was granted to a firm for the supply of hosiery to the Royal household in 1753. The same firm has held the Royal Warrant for the supply of the same goods to the King.

The form of the Royal Arms that must be displayed by a Warrant holder from King George is one designed by His Majesty after coronation. It is given to the holder of the warrant by King Edward, though, of course, what are known as the "quaranters" and support have not been altered for years.

Queen Mary has her own coat of arms, with a shield supported by two lions. It is exceptionally difficult to secure a Royal Warrant. There are over 1,400 Warrant holders, but they are more than sufficient to supply every need of the Royal household in the country. Not all Royalists, by the way, issue warrants. The Duke of York does not, neither do the younger princes.

A Modern Dairy Farm

Newest Equipment On Prince of Wales Farm in England

The Prince of Wales's farm at Frouse, Nottingham, will shortly be the most modern example in the country of electric dairy farming. The cow-sheds, barns, and granaries are being completely re-equipped, and a cleverly designed electric pump and range will result in every animal managing its own drinking water supply. The cow shed is a small quantity of water at the bottom of its trough, and it presses its nose down to get it at a range and fishes the trough with a fresh water supply. The water is obtained by an electric pump, which stores 6,000 gallons in three and a half hours.

The Prince has also decided to reconstruct practically the entire farm house and make it twice its present size.

More Women Voters

Exceed Men By Two Million Under New English Bill

Women will be in political secondary in England next year, so far as voting power is concerned, according to the statistical review of the British general election published. It is estimated that when the franchise to women on the same terms as men, to the introduction of which next year the Government is committed, is enacted into law, 5,240,000 women will be added to the electorate. At the moment electors exceed voters more than 6,000,000, compared with 11,000,000 men. This will give women more than 5,000,000 majority.

College Instructor At Seventeen

A college instructor at 17 is the record of Horace W. Morelock, Jr., son of President H. W. Morelock of Salt Lake College, Alpine, Texas. Young Morelock first attracted attention when he finished high school at 15. He received Bachelor of Arts degree this spring from Salt Lake College and is an instructor at South Texas Teachers' College at El Paso. The town legend has it that he completed 1921 college graduate in the Lone Star state.

As long as the earth is inhabited men and women will continue to stir up trouble for each other.

Best Age To Wean The Litters

Proper Age Is Set At From Six To Eight Weeks

It is surprising, after all that has been written and said about the weaning of pigs, that farmers do still be so fond who will remove the litters at about four weeks of age. There may be special reasons for doing this at times when two litters a year are being raised from the same mother, but even then the practice is of doubtful value. From six to eight weeks has been proved time and time again to be a more profitable age for removing the young pigs from their mothers. Indeed this is the critical period in the life of the young pig, because the digestive system has not been developed sufficiently to take care of any food so well as the mother's milk. Writing from the experience of thirteen years' experiments at the Experimental Station at Lacombe, Alberta, Mr. P. H. Reed, the Superintendent, states in Bulletin No. 13, of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, that it has been definitely proven that young pigs should be weaned at six to eight weeks. There is a great deal of trouble in the way of the young pigs and with this can be fed a most mature of oat chow made from either alfalfa or hay. The litters should be fed this in milk with middlings and bran in the proportion of 100 pounds of oatmeal, 75 pounds of middlings and 25 pounds of bran. The newly weaned pigs should be fed at least three times a day for the first month after weaning. The main object at this time should be to keep the pigs growing and preventing any sickness. Good results could also be obtained, the bulletin states, by feeding litters oats or sifted oat chow with skim milk, beet molasses, or oil meal and kaffir. Liberal space for exercise and plenty of green feed in the winter or pasture in the summer are highly recommended in the bulletin which is distributed by the Publication Branch of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa.

When Learning Failed

Got On The Cob Taxed Still Of British Governor

All the students learning of 25 distinguished British seamen who came to Rochester to inspect the Marine Corps during a tour of American medical centres, failed them when they were confronted with American coast guards on the job.

On the dinner of the train which brought the party to Rochester several men were a part of the group. The steward saw their plight and gave a casual demonstration.

Has Two Hundred Descendants

Mr. W. Griffith, of Sydney, N.S.W., recently celebrated his one hundred and first birthday. She claims to be the only person still living who has descended the young-late William IV, in London in 1837. Mrs. Griffith has reared 13 children, all of whom are now married, and has more than 200 descendants. Mrs. Griffith can walk, sew, read and write and has an excellent memory.

Educating Parents

By Judge Emily F. Murphy, Police Magistrate, Edmonton, Alberta

I have recently been forced to give up educating parents. The good ones don't need education and, with the others, I am beginning to feel that the only thing which will have any marked effect upon them is to put them under bond or make them pay $100.

1. It is easier to say they compare favourably. Honestly, I don't know!

2. The question is not a wife's a man to answer casually and is too varied in its aspects.

3. This question may be answered more easily by saying: Produce good parents if you want good children.

4. Every hour of every incident is educative to all of us—parents included. The trouble seems to be that many parents fail to make use of their education. They just won't.

5. A girl's education starts with her doll and for the most part continues up to her marriage. The same does not apply to boys. They get practically no training for parent-hood.

6. It is all right to educate parents if you know how to do it. Tell us they ought to be educated and how we will object. The same thing happens when you tell a foreigner he should be a "Canadian" or a westerner because that he must be "tamed." The thing has to be done by stealth if you are to succeed. That should be attempted by all means.

Did Not Sound Dead

"If you want to spend a quiet half-hour," said the native to a visitor, "there's no better place than our art gallery."

"It says that the visitor, on entering, is struck by a statue of Hercules. Then he is struck by the number of the grand staircase."

A picture in the first room is full of punch, while further on one is crushed by the overwhelming noise, awareness of another painting. Finally, brilliant colors run riot everywhere. So, sir, if I want a quiet half-hour I'd take a boring lesson."

A Blind Baseball Fan

You don't have to have eyes to enjoy a baseball game, says Charlotte Hawkins of Springfield, Ohio, although most people study writer and artist. And he knows where the players are and what they are doing. He can tell what the ball has been hit and whether it is likely to be caught.

Predicts End Of Soviets

Noted Writer Believes Regime Is Drawing To A Close

Loose Muscovite, writing on conditions in Europe declares that it is only a question of time when the Soviet regime in Moscow meets its end and it is only a matter of time when it is so firmly rooted. This writer declares that a blow was delivered at Russia when the British withdrew from the Baltic. It is also considering a similar step. The only report from Russia now which has no object on other countries is the propaganda, and, as time passes, the market for that is becoming more and more restricted. The Russians have failed miserably in China.

The United States never recognized the Soviet and yet that country did not lose business with England, France or Germany with the Bolsheviks. Recognition, it was found, was not necessary to business nor conduct of trade. It worked the other way in Britain, until diplomatic relations were broken off for abuse of hospitalities.

Ravages Of Rust

Takes A Heavy Annual Toll From Farmers Of The West

During the season of 1924, before the United States Department of Agriculture and Colonization, the Director of the Botanical Institute of the Department of Agriculture, in the Federal Department of Agriculture gave an address in the course of which he revealed something of the losses annually sustained as a result of rust. It is astounding to read that even in 1923, which gave as the highest estimate of the history of Canada, nevertheless an amount of $10,000,000 was lost in the Red River Valley alone. Now if it is possible to find that when rust is really severe, as it was in 1918, the crop may be destroyed by an amount of wheat which at current values would then have been worth $10,000,000. This is a sum of money equal to three times that which the country derives annually from its fisheries, and equal to the value of the entire mineral production.

The amount of wheat destroyed represented by these staggering figures is represented by the fact that the wheat which was destroyed by one half, it would still remain an intolerable incalculable upon our wheat reserves, which would be a great deal of wheat. Unfortunately there are now a number of encouraging indications that rust may be easily fought by way before investigation.

Stimulated by such considerations as these and encouraged by the experience of the past, the Canadian agricultural opinion held before it, the Government took in 1924, the Canadian wheat rust campaign for the foundation of a research institute, the chief business of which is to study the rust of wheat. For the report of the Division of Botany for 1925 states that "the new Dominion Rust Research Laboratory at Winnipeg is now working under the new personnel are now being accepted. The equipment in regard to laboratory buildings, as well as greenhouse, leave little more to be desired; and every facility has been afforded for the study of the rust, research along the line of grain rust control."

Princes Of Wales Evidently Inherits The Trick Of The Trade

The crux of the matter in the world is his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. He has the job of the "Prince of Wales" which is a very tried and true, and he does his job well. It is not every one who could sell the Prince of Wales, but he is a very good salesman, to the rest of the world, but this what the Prince of Wales has done. Up and down the world, he has gone, he has gone, charming fashionable people, red, white, yellow and black, to take the vision of the British King (George) has been seen, wise, tolerant and trustworthy.

Canada's Copper Deposits

Copper ores of various kinds, including the native metal, are found in many places throughout Canada. Production has so far been confined to the following areas in order of importance: British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba and the Yukon. Deposits of copper ore are also known in the Maritime Provinces and in the Arctic regions of Canada. The Arctic deposits, although at present inaccessible, possibly constitute the largest source of copper in the future.

Small Fruits Profitable

An increasing number of prize farmers are finding the growing of small fruits profitable. In the Marquette of the Marquette district, planted at the end of a quarter of an acre of strawberries in the spring of 1923 and this year yielded 1000 bushels of berries. These sold locally for from 20 cents to 50 cents per quart, the best being of excellent quality.
